

CALL FOR EDITOR-IN-CHIEF
APPLICATIONS SOUGHT FOR Gynecologic Oncology
DEADLINE: March 1, 2021

Gynecologic Oncology, the Official Journal of the Society of Gynecologic Oncology (SGO), is seeking a new Editor-in-Chief as the present Editor-in-Chief is stepping down from the Journal after 15 years of distinguished service to the Journal, the SGO, and the community at large. The initial five-year term will officially begin January 1, 2022.

ABOUT GYNECOLOGIC ONCOLOGY

Gynecologic Oncology, an international journal, is devoted to the publication of clinical and investigative articles that concern tumors of the female reproductive tract. Investigations relating to the etiology, diagnosis, and treatment of female cancers, as well as research from any of the disciplines related to this field of interest, are published.

Research Areas Include:

- Cell and molecular biology
- Chemotherapy
- Cytology
- Endocrinology
- Epidemiology
- Genetics
- Gynecologic surgery
- Immunology
- Pathology
- Radiotherapy

For more information, visit the Journal's website: www.gynecologiconcology-online.net.

QUALIFICATIONS

This position requires an individual committed to publication excellence and advancement of the field of women's cancer.

Ideal applicants should have:

- recognized expertise in the field of gynecologic oncology,
- past experience on a journal editorial board,
- a good track record of publishing in high quality journals,
- excellent leadership skills,
- and the vision to further the success of the Journal.

Minimum credentials:

- Medical Doctor or Doctor of Osteopathy;
- Board Certified in Obstetrics & Gynecology;
- Board Certified Gynecologic Oncologist; and
- Full Member in good standing of the SGO.

JOB RESPONSIBILITIES

The Editor-in-Chief is primarily responsible for:

- assessing submitted research papers, overseeing the peer review process, and working collaboratively with researchers and an Editorial Board including 5 Deputy Editors;
- recruiting best in class research papers and commissioning commentaries, reviews, and other specialty articles;
- coordinating with publishing staff in a timely manner to ensure on time delivery of issues;
- representing the Journal at scientific meetings;
- and actively working with the Editors and Publisher to develop and execute an overall strategy to maintain and improve the Journal's standing in the field.

The Editor-in-Chief may also hold a joint appointment with the Journal's companion title, Gynecologic Oncology Reports. The Editor-in-Chief must agree to work closely with the Editors of Gynecologic Oncology Reports to ensure alignment between the Journals, including the facilitation of manuscript transfers between the two Journals, as editorially appropriate.

As the Official Journal of the SGO, the Editor-in-Chief must make all reasonable efforts to help ensure alignment between the Society's and Journal's missions. This includes, but is not limited to, assisting the Publisher in presenting annual strategic updates to the SGO Board of Directors and working closely with SGO leadership and staff on various publication and related initiatives (e.g. podcasts).

APPLICATION

All applicants should send a single pdf file containing the following documentation:

- Curriculum Vitae, including SGO member ID and any COI/financial disclosures
- Letter of Intent
- Vision Statement

Applications should be submitted to the Journal's Publisher, by March 1, 2021 (midnight, EST):

Angela Welch, PhD
Senior Publisher, Gynecologic Oncology
Email: a.welch@elsevier.com